DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-14, drawn to managing the transmission of data between a plurality of entities through a communication network, classified in class 370, subclass 254.
 - II. Claims 15-17, drawn to the detection of the availability of a network element to be used in communication of data, classified in class 710, subclass 15.
 - III. Claim 18, drawn to a memory storage accessing technique, classified in class 711, subclass 154.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because Invention I can be used for regulating data transmission between network elements. The subcombination has separate utility such as access control in a transmission network.

3. Inventions I and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because invention I can be used for regulating data transmission between network elements. The subcombination has separate utility such as access to a specific location in a shared memory system.

4. Inventions II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as regulating data transmission between network elements. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 2668

7. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, and III, and the search required for Group II is not required for Group III, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

8. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to AHMED ELALLAM whose telephone number is (571) 272-3097. The examiner can normally be reached on 9-5:30.
